The following instructions are intended to help you understand and operate all the features built into this product.

Good Railroading!!!!

FORTY-FOOT STEEL BOXCAR

The BOX CAR is based upon a forty-foot Steel Freight Railcar of the 1930's era. Actual prototype examples of this type car are still in limited use by North American Railroads.

WORKING FEATURES:

Operating AAR-design knuckle couplers.
Detailed freight car trucks/wheelsets with individual springs.
Operating door with moveable latch.

EXTERIOR DETAILS:

Three-dimensional ladders on Ends and Sides.
BRASS Grab Railings.
Simulated WOOD-GRAIN flooring.
Full Underframe, including Air Brake System components.

FEATURES

TRUCK BEARINGS:

The truck sideframes are molded of a thermal plastic which reproduces all details and, for durability, a special bearing has been permanently inserted in each journal box end. These bearings are designed to operate properly WITHOUT lubrication. However, you MAY lubricate, if desired, using a dry lubricant of powdered graphite, an oil-based liquid lubricant, or ARISTO-CRAFT TRAINS ART-29602 CONDUCTIVE LUBRICANT but ONLY in very small amounts. It is not necessary to dis-assemble freight railcar trucks to properly lubricate. Turn freight railcar upside down and apply lubricant to axle ends at truck sideframe.

TRUCK SPRINGS:

The trucks/wheelsets on this model are designed exactly like the trucks used on prototype railroads, and use springs for equalization to act as a shock absorber and cushion the ride. If you should decide to add a load into the box car, remember to distribute the weight evenly throughout the box car. If there is more weight at one end of the BOX CAR, the springs will compress only at the loaded end causing operational problems and, possibly derailments.

COUPLERS:

Loop-style couplers are enclosed as a spare accessory. The operating knuckle couplers on all ARISTO-CRAFT TRAINS freight railcars are designed based upon the AAR-style knuckle coupler used on all major North American Railroads.

NOTE: However, these knuckle couplers may not operate automatically when attempting to couple ARISTO-CRAFT TRAINS products to knuckle couplers used by other model railroad manufactureres. Couplers may have to be joined by manually coupling the knuckle on each car in a closed position by lifting one end coupler and inserting the closed knuckle onto the ARISTO-CRAFT TRAINS knuckle coupler.

This type coupler works equally well from either end of the freight railcar and can be uncoupled automatically by using an LGB* designed uncoupling device. The couplers may also be operated manually by pressing upward on the small tab below each coupler assembly. The coupler can be pushed away to any side if you wish the railcar not to couple automatically when the railcars come together. However, DO NOT attempt to operate in train without the couplers properly aligned and fully coupled to opposite railcar/locomotive. Otherwise, railcar(s) may derail on curves or switch tracks. Should you prefer to use the Loop-style coupler, this conversion can be made easily and quickly by unscrewing the single screw that holds the AAR coupler to the truck arm and attaching the Loop-style coupler using the same screw. Both style couplers are attached to truck arm at a swivel base. When operating railcar, this enables coupler(s) to articulate when encountering sharp radius curves or switches. Couplers will center automatically while railcar is in motion. Manual centering is accomplished by exerting light pressure on knuckle/Loop at articulated joint and returning knuckle/Loop to center.
